Dear [redacted]

Re: Murdoch University Veterinary Professional Life Conference 2014

On behalf of all the students who participated in the Hill's Murdoch Veterinary & Animal Science Student Conference held last week I would like to extend a heartfelt thank you for your very generous support.

The sponsorship of Hills was intrinsic to ensuring the day was a great success that was enjoyed by all the students. The conference gave us with the opportunity to showcase the work we have been developing that examines recent production animal research of interest to us. It was great to have the opportunity to practise our presentation skills in a relaxed and supportive yet professional setting. I know that these skills of analysing and communicating scientific ideas will be invaluable in our future professional careers.

It was a busy and exciting day, with three concurrent sessions running that investigates a wide variety of veterinary and production problems across a range of production industries. It was great to be offered a snapshot of what problems are an issue to these industries that we will become involved in, and how current research is being conducted to tackle these issues. A lot of us had not previously given much thought to a career in research or of those who do the research that underpins the work that we will be doing in our professional careers.

Thank you for recognising the benefit of this event and for supporting us all at the conference this year, and we sincerely hope to work with Hill's again in the future. If you have any queries or would like any further feedback on the day, please feel free to contact me on the details provided below.

Yours sincerely,
