Hi Ellaine,

Please see email below from Royal Canin – great news! ☺

Please find attached a copy of the sponsorship proposal they received for your records (same as Idexx's).

Could you please arrange for them to be invoiced the $3K + GST?

Cheers,

Kelly

Hi [redacted]

Just touching base about the sponsorship proposal for our emergency medicine course (attached again for your convenience).

The second day has completely booked up (we actually have a waiting list!) and registrations are still coming through for the first day, so it is proving to be very popular.

If you could let me know by the end of the week at the latest if you are interested that would be great.

Regards,

Kelly

Hi [redacted]

Thank you for your email and interest in our Emergency Medicine Course.

We will not be holding a trade fair as such however there is the opportunity to be co-sponsor of the course alongside IDEXX. Sponsorship benefits will include the opportunity to have a stand in the room during the morning tea, lunch and afternoon tea breaks on the first day, opportunity to distribute promotional material/samples, as well as the opportunity to include one page of A4 material in the lecture notes/course proceedings.

If this is of interest to you please let me know and I can put together a formal sponsorship proposal for you to consider.

Kind regards,

Kelly

Dear Kelly,

I hope you are well.

Kelly, could I please check whether there will be a trade fair that we can participate in at the Emergency Medicine Course? If not, is it possible for us to add something to a show bag that the attendees may be getting?

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Thanks Kelly.
