Subject: Hospital feeding agreement

Hi [REDACTED]

Good to see you today.

Would you believe after all that rushing, I am sitting at the airport still! as my flight has been delayed over an hour!! The delay however has allowed me to draft out a 1st copy of the agreement that we talked about. It will obviously be draft one of many, once everyone has input. I have cut and pasted many sections of the fine print from other agreements so this section may well be reworded by our legal team and will also need the FCPA provisions which are new added as well - I just put in what I presume will some of the legal fine print that will be included. But the lawyers will obviously ultimately do these!

Either way I thought it would be best to have some dialogue and agreement between you and I regarding points 1-6 and then once we are both familiar and happy with the draft I can submit to our legal team - turn around for them for a new agreement will likely be 6-8 weeks and then after that I can forward to you for the same process at your end. Apologies again that our meeting was cut short.

Let me know your thoughts regarding the draft and I do hope the Royal Adelaide show goes well!!

Warm Regards,
[REDACTED]

Subject: Follow up from last week

Hi [REDACTED]

Hopefully you received my email below last week - I found it in a funny spot in my archives so just wanted to make sure you received it.

On another note, I have organised for 6 x 12.5kg trial bags of canine Metabolic food to be sent to you for client trial (1 bag per overweight canine patient trialled) - some before and after photos of the patients who trial it would be great if possible :)

I have also asked [REDACTED] to follow up on the owner brochures and other materials on Metabolic which she will get to you.

Finally I will look into the staff feeding ideas that we discussed.

Warm Regards,

Subject: Veterinary Leadership Experience (VLE)

Hi [REDACTED]

Thank you for your time last week. It was lovely to chat to you regarding the professional development of students and your role in supporting them in this very important area.

As discussed, Hill's can assist with running the Veterinary Leadership Experience at your university for 1st year (and/or 4th year) students.

Topics generally covered during a one day session include:

- self awareness
- self management
- servant leadership
- communication
- paradigm shifts in the veterinary profession

I had anticipated that we would have an international presenter for VLE in 2011 but it appears likely that it will be provided by trained Hill's Pet Nutrition Veterinarians who have completed the week long training course (that Gail also attended).

A significant proportion of the day involves experiential learning using team based activities. This allows the students to engage and appreciate the relevance to them in a university setting as well as on a wider scale.

In addition, there are video clips on YouTube that can be found using the search for Veterinary Leadership Experience that you may find interesting.

I will endeavour to provide you with more detail regarding the proposed topics for a one day VLE in the next couple of days.

Kind regards

Hi [redacted]

I hope you are well and had an enjoyable Christmas and New Year.

I have contacted [redacted] regarding correspondence with [redacted] and will hopefully hear back shortly. You are correct in that he was planning to detail a more formalised package for 2011 that included the overseas travel sponsorship and later speaking arrangements. Also, since it wasn't discussed, any speaking commitments that you agree to on behalf of Hill's, will be paid accordingly.

In terms of payment it may be easiest for The University of Adelaide to invoice Hill's directly at this point in time although we could create a separate account for you. Do you have an ABN for any contract work?

I look forward to meeting soon. I am planning (if it suits the Hospital Team) to visit on Tuesday 1st February. I couldn't recall your working days of the week but if you are on campus it would be great to meet up.

Kind regards

Dear [redacted]

I hope you had a wonderful Christmas and New Years break and if you are still on holidays, that you are currently enjoying them too.

I just wanted to follow up the action plan from our teleconference with [redacted]. I recall there being some discussion that I invoice Hill's when I have made the travel arrangements but I have a feeling we concluded that an email would be scripted to [redacted] and myself outlining the telephone conversation and plans for 2011, including the O/S arrangements. Sorry, I just wanted to double check before I go organising anything.

Thanks again [redacted] and sorry to trouble you. I look forward to meeting you hopefully in the near future.

I am very happy to present what suits your programme and MC the day as you see fit.
I have worked with [REDACTED] and [REDACTED] many times - probably gone through about 40+ VLE days for students, nurses and clinicians and have presented different sections with them as well - so, completely happy to fit in where needed.

Are we able to have a call this week and firm up the agenda and timing?

Dear [Redacted]

My apologies, I have had every intention of emailing to say thankyou for forwarding your PowerPoint. I had a brief chat with [Redacted] about your offer to present some info regarding HAB and while I cover it from 2nd year on, we thought it would be great to introduce it earlier and from a different perspective. So if you are still interested in presenting this to the students, please go ahead, they will benefit from your experience. My lectures in 2nd year take on an application of the theory/research, so case based scenarios to work through.

I look forward to meeting you next week.

Excellent [REDACTED] thank you.

If you are happy to MC that would be fabulous as we, the U of A team, will have just finished two days of DVM O'week activities so may be a bit fried by Thursday!

Arriving the am of would be fine but entirely up to you folks as it is a hour from town to get to RW so may be a bit of an early start doing that?

Let's get a tentative schedule together this end and then hook up by phone to firm up who's doing what, when etc.

Thanks again for all your help,

PS Will work on getting a surgeon engaged for the downtown meeting.

Hi [REDACTED]

I hope you are well.

NYC was fantastic - it definitely surpassed my expectations and I enjoyed the numerous museums and galleries it had to offer.

Glad to hear that VLE and the 2 day DVM professional went well. You must have been exhausted by the end of the week but I am sure it was a very satisfying experience. Thank you for allowing Hill's to be involved in the VLE day.

We are happy for you to establish a consultancy through The University of Adelaide. I presume that this means The University of Adelaide will create the tax invoice for payment from Hill's accordingly. In terms of fees, do you have any thoughts? I think most people charge per hour of lecture rather than days interstate/overseas but it is entirely up to you.

Following on from this, I have another request if it suits you. There is a 3 clinic key account group in Melbourne who would like to devote an evening to a communication seminar/workshop - probably about 30 vets and nurses would be in attendance. They are looking at August 11th (Thursday evening) but are happy for any Wednesday or Thursday evening in that month if it suits better. I couldn't remember if August was difficult in terms of your academic commitments.

I look forward to catching up with you again soon.

Kind regards

Dear [Redacted]

How was New York?

VLE here was a project on the run, due to several factors including my attention as well as [Redacted] devoted to the 2 day DVM professional and personal development seminars I delivered the two days prior as well as poor [Redacted] situation. Regardless, while we were on the run, the students would never have known and I think they had an enjoyable day. Raelene made a good suggestion in that we develop a standard program to be delivered each year so we all know what to expect and each party's involvement and contribution.

Further to your request to discuss my fee for consultancy, I was unable to discuss with [Redacted], in person, my desire to establish a consultancy, rather than private work, through the University of Adelaide. Is this a possibility?

Thanks [Redacted]. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Hi [REDACTED]

Thanks for your email.

Hill's NZ will meet your costs for the camp and your motel accommodation while in NZ [you may need to fly in on Tuesday the 19th and home on Saturday the 23rd]. So costs for you would be your airfares and taxis to and from the airport

Flying into Auckland and then down to Palmerston North will likely give you more flight choices, but you can also fly to Wellington and then up to Palmerston North

Let me know if I can help with anything else. You will need warm clothing and a warm sleeping bag. The camp accommodation is fairly basic, bunk rooms and communal bathrooms but the company is always good!

[REDACTED] has kindly forwarded your email address to me as I understand you may be interested to attend Hill's VLE in NZ in July?

I would love to have to you there and I know the Massey team and in particular [REDACTED] who looks after the vet students, would very much appreciate your presence.

The dates are July 20-22nd, we start midday on Wed the 20th and finish at 4-5 PM on the Friday.

If you have any questions please don't hesitate to ask, and if you are keen to come I will forward you the registration details

Hi [REDACTED]

I hope you and your family are well and enjoyed the weekend.

Sorry for my last minute text on Friday. Just thought I would check if you had been at Roseworthy at the same time although I had a feeling that you didn't work on Fridays. I had a fleeting visit - an evening seminar on Thursday night for 100 vet nurses then student interviews at Roseworthy on Friday.

[REDACTED] has expressed an interest in Hill's helping with any VLE activities that you may have for 2012. Do you have any plans as yet or dates that I should communicate with [REDACTED]? I had a meeting with [REDACTED] on Friday and we discussed VLE. He is happy for us to work together on this and asked that we just cc him for relevant emails.

Looking forward to catching up soon. [REDACTED] and I are hoping to come over to Adelaide for a weekend before the end of the year. A trip to the wineries does sound very tempting.

Unfortunately no luck with my formal application for further study in Psychology with Hill's. I think it was too niche and they couldn't see the immediate commercial benefits. At least the course runs annually so can always try again next year :)

Kind regards

Hi [Redacted]

Sorry for the delay in getting back to you. No worries about the end of month talks. I hope our dinner at Rigoni's didn't blow your budget! It would be great to get down to Hobart next year, if this type of training is still on the cards. I would dearly love to do more practical workshops (as you would have noted from my email to Mark) and have some ideas as to how to make this affordable and feasible for all parties (not sure how realistic those ideas are of course!!).

Hoping you and [Redacted] come over to Adelaide and I can show you guys around. Would love to take you up to some of my favourite wineries and have some time relaxing outside of a hectic work schedule.

How's the Uni prospects looking?

Canada was great, have made some excellent contacts and the seminar, by all accounts, was well received. So, it was a great trip professionally while personally... [Redacted] and [Redacted] disagree!

Hope you are well and work is coming along.

Subject: UK conference

Dear [REDACTED]

Early this year I had organised to go to the UK to visit some Vet Schools there (Liverpool, possibly Nottingham and Bristol) as well as attend facilitator training for comm skills. It was cancelled and I am looking to head over in July instead to attend the Veterinary Medical Education conference there and I have had an abstract accepted. My talk will focus on the 2 day DVM (our 4th years) orientation [REDACTED] and I put together which focussed on the development of Emotional Intelligence as it relates to Professionalism in the Vet Profession.

I am wondering if Hills would still be interested in supporting me to go to the UK, as discussed earlier in the year. I am hoping a connection with the UK schools, which we don't really seem to have in this field in Australia for some reason, will lead to similar collaboration as that which has come about from my trip to the US (joint abstract submission at ICCVM in October 2011, research collaboration as well as possible mentorship, not to mention benchmarking our course and related improvements).

I will also be heading over to New Zealand for their VLE. I need to confirm this with [REDACTED] and again thank Hills for their support. I hope to get some ideas for us at Adelaide Uni as well as potentially establish some collaboration with the folks there.

I look forward to hearing from you [REDACTED] when you have a moment.

I am in the process of organising the 2012 CE evening seminar calendars (vets & nurses) for the Animal Emergency Centre. They were very impressed with your seminar earlier this year and have implemented much of what you talked about into their business. They have requested that we ask to have you on the program again in 2012. What we are proposing is to do a vet and nurse evening combined for your talk such that multiple members of the same practice can attend and have more momentum to implement change etc. (The norm is that we have separate nurse and vet CE nights.)

We were hoping that perhaps we could secure you for a date in March if you were available?

Thursday March 29th has been suggested but we are flexible with the date and the month depending on your availability.

While you were in Melbourne [REDACTED] also has one or two clinics that she would like to have you speak.

Look forward to hearing from you.

Hi [REDACTED]

Happy New Year! I hope you had a wonderful Christmas.

I was hoping to schedule a seminar on [REDACTED] with a vet clinic when you are in Melbourne in March (Thursday March 29th at 1pm). The time allocation is about 60-75 minutes and there will be at least 16 vets and nurses. They are a group of 8 practices and we are holding it at one clinic so there is the possibility that nearby branch clinics may also attend.

Are you happy for this to take place? Do you have a prepared seminar you could give? If not, I can ask them to select a different topic.

Hi [REDACTED]

This is all correct. The lecture theatre is booked for [REDACTED] for Friday 30 March, 1pm.

The lecture title and primary focus are both excellent. I understand that the scope of a single lecture must be limited but if [REDACTED] is able to provide a list of additional resources that can be printed or e-mailed to the students (or included in the BVSx) that would be appreciated.

I will prepare the flyer using the bio and logo you provide.

The plan for the day is for the session to start at 1pm. The students are asked to attend 10 min before the start to get their lunch and get seated. The theatre has to be vacated by 2pm. The lecture theatre is set up for PowerPoint and will accept either PC or USB drive (and other technologies).

If you (or the chosen Hills rep) and [REDACTED] would like to arrive early for a coffee and a chance to get familiar with the venue, you are most welcome. I will probably spend the half hour before the lecture trying to round up the students and preparing the lunch, but I will be available before that if you would like time to see the renovated facilities and meet some of the team. Please send me a text before you arrive so that I can meet you at reception.

The session will be recorded for access by those students not present. With the new curriculum, about half of the 120 final year students are out on extramural placements at any one time.

I will contact you again prior to Fri 30 March. I also need to talk to you about the BVSx publication at some time. I would welcome [redacted] input to the pages concerning mental health issues. I look forward to meeting you and hearing [redacted] presentation.

Cheers

 Subject: Speaking at our online nursing conference in October?

Dear [REDACTED]
 I hope that this email finds you happy and well.

... at Hill's, in conjunction with our webinar platform company, Veteducation, are planning an Australian first - an online nursing conference!

The conference is earmarked for the week beginning the 29th Oct. We are planning to have Australian speakers in the evening slots and US speakers in the lunch time slots.

I would be absolutely delighted if you would be available to speak at one of the evening seminars. They typically start at around 7.30/8pm and you can do your lecture from the comfort of your own home or office. The possible evenings are Tues 30th, Wed 31st Oct or Thurs 1st Nov.

The topic that we would like you to cover is [REDACTED] The webinar will go for about 90 mins, usually 60 mins or 70 mins of lecture and then time for questions.

If you could let me know if you are interested/available and also what your fee would be for budgeting purposes, that would be fabulous.

Talk soon,

Hi [redacted]
Hope you are well.
[redacted] has asked that I come over to Adelaide in late Feb to attend and assist where required at the VLE type day that you have scheduled for Thurs 28th Feb. Is this still the case and would you like me to attend and if so, what is the current plan for the day so that I can plan my trip.
Warm Regards,
[redacted]

Hi [REDACTED]

Lovely to hear from you

Yes, I'd love for [REDACTED] to attend, the dates are Wed July 17th, finish 5PM Fri July 19th, so if she could fly in on the afternoon of the 16th and likely home on the morning of the 20th that's be great

I will organise and pay for her accommodation in Palmerston North, perhaps she could forward me her flight info and the nights she'd like accommodation I will organise things at this end

Hi [REDACTED]

I hope you are well.

[REDACTED] has notified me that her NZ flights that were cancelled last year have to be re-booked shortly before they expire. Would you like her to attend VLE Massey and, if so, what dates should she fly in/out?

Kind regards

Hi [redacted]
 I hope you are well.
 Please find below an email from [redacted] from UoA re the 2014 camp.
 The camp is booked for 24th-26th February with myself and [redacted] tentatively penciled in as Hill's staff to attend (subject to your final approval).
 I have paid the $300 deposit for the camp and had organised with [redacted] to pay the remainder of our financial commitment in 2014 prior to the camp and so that the amount goes into the 2014 budget.
 Please advise how to proceed given the 3K shortfall - whether [redacted] should seek a secondary sponsor or whether we can finance any further and perhaps a way to further leverage our presence at this event.
 Warm Regards,
 [redacted]

[redacted] - can you please confirm that these will postgrad vet students - DV1? who will be entering their clinical years.

Dear [redacted]

I hope you had a great trip. Further to our discussion over the phone re: the O week camp and funding. During the original discussions with [redacted] and [redacted] regarding my proposed budget, I originally suggested $10000 would mostly cover costs associated with the camp. At the time and I presume in a different budget calendar, this was approved.

We are still most grateful for the support offered by Hills with a generous $7000 grant plus 2 staff (in-kind support) attending the camp. I know you told me over the phone the amount had reduced and I was hoping we could top up the funds internally.

Our committee approved the camp in principal (pending legalities and risk assessments) as I had told them earlier this year the original amount of $10000 was the commitment from Hills. We have a problem as there is a short fall. Shall I look for other sponsors for the event as the School does not have a budget for a camp? Furthermore, unfortunately I needed to organise the payment of the deposit as the booking was only tentative and the booking hold date had expired. The Camp site is heavily booked years in advance at that time of year.

The budget from 2012 is still mostly accurate and is:

Accommodation for 70 $4200 (this figure may go up or down depending on enrolments)

Food approximately (@$55 pp) $3850

Transport approximately $2000

I'm really excited to offer this opportunity to our students as they start their postgraduate phase of their training and I do hope we can proceed.

Kind regards, [REDACTED]

Subject: UoA Camp

Hi [REDACTED]

Just to follow up from our communication last week. As you know Hill's pledges a total of $10,000 to the UoA Vet Camp for 2015. Given I have already paid the $500 deposit for Woodhouse for next year, the total remaining is $9,500 in the new year.

[REDACTED] has advised me that he will draft a document that formalises our financial commitment to the camp such that you can then share with your finance team as requested.

In addition, I am unsure when you are returning from maternity leave but it may be while I am on my upcoming leave. I will be away for Oct, Nov and Dec and as such, if you need to communicate any details regarding the camp during this time could you please email [REDACTED] as well as cc'ing me.

Lastly, I have the camp dates in my 2015 diary as Mon 23- Wed 25 Feb. Is the plan for the camp similar to what we did this year? And do you envisage requiring one or two people to attend from Hill's. I am happy to deliver the personality type session again in 2015 if you desire. I know this all seems very early to be discussing but am just conscious that when I return to work in January, Feb will be just around the corner!!

Hope all good with you!
