Dear Sir

I return the information you provided me and thank you for drawing the matter to my attention.

Woolworths, as you know, are retailers and offer for sale products that comply with all statutory regulations and acts.

We, as retailers, are not qualified to judge the validity of your claims, nor would we presume to do so. That is a matter for the appropriate authorities and to that end we will respond accordingly if so directed.

Your interest in this matter is noted and we again thank you for sharing your views.

Yours sincerely
